

GETTING FYP IDEAS 2 - MODULE ANALYSIS – PAST, PRESENT & FUTURE

Now you have looked at the jobs market you might find it useful to look at the modules you have and will study. Analysing what you liked, disliked or were good or bad at, coupled with your analysis of the jobs market and your skills may help you home-in on a FYP idea. For this year's modules, you can find copies of the module descriptions on the Intranet and you should be able to access your modules' Blackboard areas where you should find more information about each module.

1 st Year Modules	Modules I liked or got a good mark in	Why I liked these modules	Modules I didn't like so much or didn't get such a good mark	Why I didn't like these modules
2 nd Year Modules	Modules I liked or got a good mark in.	Why I liked these modules	Modules I didn't like so much or didn't get such a good mark	Why I didn't like these modules
Final Year Modules	First semester modules	What I enjoyed about these modules	First semester modules	What I didn't enjoy about these modules.
	Potential Opportunities – If you will be doing something in your final year that particularly interests you, start thinking about how you could build on this for a potential FYP		Potential Issues – if you will be doing something in your final year that you have already identified that you don't like or are not so good at start thinking how you will meet this challenge
